EVERGLADES FEDERAL'S NEW BRANCH OFFICE, PAHOKEE

This handsome new structure was recently completed on Bacom Point Road in Pahokee as the new home of the Everglades Federal's Pahokee Branch. It was built by Braddock Construction Company of Belle Glade and is located immediately north of the new Pahokee post office. Its beauty adds materially to that area of Bacom Point Road fast becoming the main showplace of Pahokee.

Arrangements Are Shown By C. P. Club

Members of Canal Point Garden Club displayed flower arrangements made by members at their Garden Club meeting Thursday at Community Center. The arrangements were judged and constructive criticism given by an accredited member of the Belle Glade Club Mrs. W. R. Kirk.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Ralph Duran and Mrs. D. L. Hooks. Mrs. Glen Powell, president, presided.

He related experiences on his trip to Russia, West and East Berlin and other European countries last summer. He also showed colored slides of the trip. He accompanied some 49 people connected with Florida Agriculture on the tour which was under the auspices of the People to People program. He was introduced by Frank Tillis, program chairman.

Members of the club are still working and planning for the benefit fish fry which the club will sponsor Saturday, Nov. 3 from 5 to 8 p. m. at the club building. Tickets are being sold in the community by Lions.

Guests attending the meeting were: George Young, Belle Glade; Billy Mackey, Pahokee; and Kirby Mole, guest of student Lion Chuck Pell.

Vegetable Deal Is Off To Slow Start

The 1963-64 vegetable harvest season in the Glades is getting off to a slow start. C. M. Todd, manager of Pahokee State Farmers Market, said Tuesday.

"The sweet corn volume has not increased as the farmers had expected because of light yields. Only around 35 carlots weekly are moving to market," he said.

The quality and price is very good for this time of the season, with crates of yellow corn bringing $3 and some white variety $3.25. A number of farmers will start harvesting next week and the volume is expected to reach its peak for the fall crop the latter part of next week.

A few green beans were harvested by Pioneer Growers in Belle Glade last week but according to officials the quality was very poor and brought poor prices. The green bean acreage has been cut drastically for the past two or three years in the Glades and the acreage seems to be very small this season.

Other vegetables going to market are radishes, which are bringing only 85 cents; a basket and a light volume of escarole and endive.

The Agricultural Marketing Service in cooperation with the Florida State Marketing Bureau, will open the Market News Office in Belle Glade on Oct. 23, with G. F. Pittman in charge.

Police Chief and Mrs. Leon Guthrie spent the weekend visiting their son-in-law and daughter Trooper and Mrs. Carl Williams and family in Tampa.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship group of Pahokee Methodist Church will trick and treat during the Halloween season for the UNICEF. Tuesday, October 29 at 7 p. m. members will meet at the church and go out in teams for a house to house canvass.

The UNICEF is the United Nations Children's fund under the sponsorship of the United Nations. This fund provides food and necessities for needy children of the world. According to statistics 1/3 of the children of the world are in need of food and medical care. Mrs. H. H. Hendrix, counselor with her husband for the MYF, said that one cent will provide five vitamins to combat malnutrition.

The UNICEF depends on volunteer contributions from governments, groups and private individuals. Last Halloween the MYF group raised $100 with their trick and treat project.

Mrs. Marty Carsteens, of West Palm Beach, will arrive Thursday to spend the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Anderson.

Palm Lake Group 25th Anniversary Held Last Night

One of the highlights for the Canal Point Baptist Church was the meeting of the Palm-Lake Association, which celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary and the Silver Anniversary reception which followed the meeting at the social hall of the church Thursday evening.

Twenty-five years ago the Association was organized in the local church and has now grown to include some 30 churches in Palm Beach County.

Present for the occasion was the Rev. S. B. Jordan, pastor of a Hialeah church, who was pastor of the local church when the association was organized.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles D. Stewart of Statesboro, Ga., were also in the receiving line. Mr. Stewart having been pastor of the church for six years before he retired from the active ministry last fall.

The Rev. Hal Hunter, also a former pastor of Pahokee Baptist Church, and now moderator of the association presided at the festivities.

Heading the receiving line at the reception was Mrs. R. T. Smith, president of the local Woman's Missionary Union; and officers of the association who participated in the opening session including Rev. J. C. Walters, Lake Worth, associational Sunday School superintendent; Max Davis, West Palm Beach, associational Training Union director; Mrs. Walt Schecter, Belle Glade, associational president of the Woman's Missionary Union; the Rev. and Mrs. Stuart, hosts and the Rev. Hunter.

The members of the local Woman's Missionary Union presented the church with an engraved sterling silver punch bowl for the occasion.

Mrs. C. B. Jones of Canal Point, wife of a former minister, was at the guest table and it was pointed out that she was one of the members of the organizational committee.

Following the business meeting in the church, presided over by Rev. Hal Hunter the group of nearly 200 people adjourned to the new recreational building for a tea.

With the Anniversary meeting being held in Canal Point last night, the day meeting to follow today will be held at the First Baptist Church in Lake Worth, following a pattern set and maintained for the quarter of a century the Association has been in existence.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bell have returned to their home in Miami after visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sanders here. While here they enjoyed a number of fishing trips with the Sanders.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with
U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

Junior Colleges To Enroll 3 Of Every 4

JACKSONVILLE—The college-enrollment crisis will be met by a "new college for a new society," says a study of two-year colleges released by the Prudential Insurance Co.

The study predicts that junior colleges, which today enroll one of every four students starting college, will by 1970 be enrolling three of every four.

Educational experts who prepared the study for Prudential predict that four-year colleges will not be able to accommodate the millions who will be seeking entrance by 1970.

Prudential is making the study available in booklet form. Copies may be obtained by writing to Public Relations Dept., The Prudential Insurance Co., Jacksonville.

Employment Better Than In 1962

TALLAHASSEE — Industrial Commission Chairman Worley Brown has announced that "month by month, 1963 has been a better employment year in Florida than 1962."

"This consistent increase over last year is an excellent indication of Florida's steady growth and business expansion," Brown added.

Brown backed up his statement by reporting that unemployment dropped 11,800 last August in Florida, while employment was up by 2,000.

LAKELAND—The Florida Citrus Commission's first fresh grapefruit promotion of the season will coincide with a heavy shipping period. The promotion opens across the nation on Oct. 28 and will continue until Nov. 9.

Advertisements announcing the return of fresh Florida citrus are scheduled to run in the December issue of Reader's Digest, Life and Ladies Home Journal. Television commercials will also run. They will be designed to inform consumers that they can find Florida grapefruit in their grocery stores again.

THE FARM FRONT

BY DOYLE CONNER
FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Sugar is in the news again. From New York City earlier this month came word that American Sugar Co. was raising its prices 35 to 50 cents per 100 pounds in some of its marketing areas. The increases put prices per 100 pounds ranging from $10.95 to $11.70.

This action came on the heels of a U. S. Department of Agriculture report that "visible and invisible U. S. inventories of sugar at the end of this year will be greatly in excess of the 2.75 million tons on hand a year earlier.

"Stocks will be increased not only by reason of the 550,000-ton cushion in this year's marketing quota over consumption," the report continued, "but also by sugar obtained from the record large mainland sugarbeet and sugarcane crops now being harvested and moving into sugar factories."

The report also showed price changes which have been upward even though U. S. supplies continue to be more than ample.

At this writing I have seen no reliable report on what happened to the Cuban sugar crop in the havoc wrought by hurricane Flora. The crop prospects there were bad enough before the storm. It could be near the vanishing point now and that might result in Russia and its satellites scurrying around to pick up sugar in the same manner they have gone after free world wheat.

Readers will recall that I predicted a few months ago we'll see mechanical harvesting of sugarcane in Florida some day.

Well, it's here already.

Richard Krueger of Cane Harvesters, Inc., Palm Beach, informs me his company has 8 big machines working in the harvest now underway. He expects to have 8 more on the job around November 1.

His machine, operated by two men, harvests an average of 300 tons of cane a day, he reports. A skilled hand cutter from Jamaica will average 7 to 8 tons a day.

The machines cost about $20,000 a piece and Mr. Krueger's firm is working on a contract basis with some of the cooperatives in South Florida where sugar plantings have been greatly expanded in the past couple of years.

He tells me thousands of the mechanical harvesters, most of them owned by individual farmers, have been used for some time in Louisiana, the only other state besides Florida which produces "mainland" cane sugar. A Louisiana firm, the Thomson Machine Co. of Thibodaux, is the manufacturer.

Another interesting development in sugar came to my attention recently.

The Iowa Development Commission is sponsoring a study to learn if a beet-sugar extraction plant could be adapted to extracting oil from soybeans.

The average beet-sugar plant operates about three months of the year. If its expensive continuous extractors could be used for soybeans the remainder of the year, a lower overhead might be achieved and plant labor could be assured of pretty steady employment.

In addition to the extraction work, according to Chemurgy Digest studies on the possibility of using other equipment, such as evaporators and dryers for both sugar and oil processing, will be made.

Remember that old saying "Fifty million Frenchmen can't be wrong"? Well, maybe they could. at that.

In Stockholm, Sweden, a super-market operator took an idea the French rejected and is making it work. He has cut his operating costs by more than 15 per cent and almost doubled his profits.

The same idea was first tried out in southern France, but it failed because shoppers there didn't like it. I mentioned it at the time an automated market showing only the facings of various packaged items, with a pile of punch cards below each.

The customer takes a card from each item she wants and at the checkout counter a machine prints duplicate itemized slips, one for the customer and one for the stockroom boys who fill her order and have it ready to go by the time she has paid her bill.

There's a considerable saving in space and labor, no refrigerated units, shopping carts or extensive shelving. Problems of shoplifting and spoilage also are eliminated.

Rental of the computer for the punch card system runs about $5,000 a year and it probably keeps track of inventory so the information on status of stocks is immediately available at all times.

Law Enforcement School Will Open

TALLAHASSEE — Full-time city, county, state and federal law enforcement officers can apply for enrollment in the new Florida Law Enforcement Academy after November 1, 1963; and the first classes will be held in February, 1964.

This timetable was announced today by the Florida Sheriffs Association, creator of the Academy as Florida's first state-wide training facility for all levels of enforcement.

Academy buildings—including a dormitory, office, classroom, dining room and recreation room—are currently being constructed by the Sheriffs Association on a 10-acre site near the new Tallahassee Municipal Airport.

The Florida Sheriffs Bureau, a state agency, will operate the Academy and has already signed up over 100 well qualified instructors who will donate their services free of charge. This will enable the Academy to charge a low tuition fee of only $75 for each five-day course to cover housing, meals, training materials and supplies. Fees for longer courses will be comparable.

A total of 20 courses of instruction will be offered, ranging from basic training to instruction for officers in top command positions. Application blanks and full details regarding eligibility can be obtained by writing to Florida Law Enforcement Academy, P. O. Box 1489, Tallahassee. Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

A Bible Lesson on the subject of "Probation After Death" will be read this Sunday at all Christian Science churches.

Golden Text: "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light; they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined." (Isaiah 9:2)

Related readings from the Christian Science textbook include these lines: "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 487).

ABOUT PEOPLE AND THINGS

USS Corp's Bryant Mill will start grinding for the 1963-64 season on Tuesday morning of next week. Cane cutters will be in the fields early on Monday harvesting enough cane to put the huge multi-million dollar mill into operation for a several months period. The Clewiston mill will start on the same schedule. The Co-Op at Belle Glade has scheduled their start for the season on November 15.

Mrs. Faye Ursry wishes to thank the many friendly folks in the area who offered sympathy when many FFA and 4-H Club cattle died last week from an unexplained reason. Many of the cattle were prize winners and youngsters were severely shocked when they found their pets dead.

The new Bank of Belle Glade will hold open house on Thursday, November 13 and open officially for business the next morning—November 14, according to Bank President E. B. McDaniel, Jr. Open House is scheduled for four to seven in the afternoon of Nov. 13. Mr. McDaniel said.

Hurricane Ginny had folks in the Glades worried on Wednesday of this week, but weather reports on Thursday morning said the disturbance had turned and headed for Daytona Beach and other points in northwest Florida. That's two spells of bad weather we've missed so far this fall—the other one was Hurricane Flora. We're fortunate. Here in The Everglades News office WE'RE THANKFUL.

Pahokee Hi Blue Devils added another scalp to their string last Friday night when they went to Riviera Beach and trounced that eleven soundly by a score of 27 to 13. This week the boys have an open date and next week Pahokee travels to Stuart for another battle of the gridiron.

Water, Water, Everywhere—and now there is some to drink in the south section of Canal Point. For years folks living south of the West Palm Beach canal have depended on a small water plant not sufficiently adequate to furnish good water and sufficient quantities. This week Henry Kautz of the Canal Point Utilities, Inc., operator of the old U. S. Sugar Corp. plant north of the canal, joined the two distribution systems and today the group of folks south of the canal are supposed to have water from the larger plant. In what quantities we don't know.

It's out west for a big game hunt! That it is a trip for a foursome from Pahokee who have hunted in these areas before. Montana and other western states will be visited by Rupert Mock, Billy Rogers, Edgar Wilder and Lewis Friend.

Herman Kautz Has Birthday Party

Mrs. Herman Kautz entertained with a birthday dinner honoring her husband on his birthday anniversary Sunday at their home at 140 Elm St., which resulted in a family reunion of the Burdeshaw and Kautz families.

W. Franklin and children of South Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Burdeshaw and family and Mr. and Mrs. Price Burdeshaw, Sr., parents of Mrs. Kautz of Pahokee.

The Rev. and Mrs. John Stewart of Enterprise, Ala., are visiting their son and daughter-in-law the Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Stewart and family in Canal Point. While here they will attend the Palm-Lake Association twenty-fifth anniversary celebration.
